Subject: Microsoft Settlement

In the interests of all concerned and the American economy this lawsuit should be settled now. Special interest groups AND the justice department have cost the American economy enough. Through the years Microsoft has risen from a fledgling company to a dominant force in our economy. This has been accomplished through good old American free market competition and Microsoft has put out a product that left the competition behind. To punish a company and long with it the economy and small and large investors alike is un-American.
